Assessment for Spiritual Problems

A Workshop for LPCs, ALCs, Social Workers, Psychologists, Psychiatric Nurses, Addiction Counselors and other Mental Health Clinicians with Andrea Mathews, LPC, PhD

To the patient
it is nothing less than a revelation when, from the hidden depths of the psyche, something arises to confront him—something strange that is not the "I" and is therefore beyond the reach of personal caprice. He has gained access to the sources of psychic life, and this marks the beginning of the cure.

We are called upon by Core Competency requirements and ethical codes to provide Assessment which both includes and honors the client's religious and spiritual values. We must also do that with objectivity and professionalism. But how do we walk softly onto that sacred ground in a way that allows the client to inform us of problems, a history of spiritual abuse, spiritual woundedness or a current spiritual crisis? This workshop is going to facilitate professional awareness of effective assessment as a form of intervention.

OBJECTIVES

- Participants will gain practical assessment tools to appropriately assess for religious/spiritual problems.
- Participants will gain practical interfaith/interspiritual skills regarding working with clients of various faiths, traditions and paths.
- Participants will learn how to assess for spiritual abuse, spiritual woundedness and/or spiritual crisis.
- Participants will learn practical treatment objectives and goals for treatment planning around religious/spiritual problems.
